¶1 Following a court trial on a stipulated record, appellant John Trammel was convicted of possession of a dangerous drug and drug paraphernalia. The trial court suspended the imposition of sentence and placed Trammel on probation supervision for a period of two years. Trammel filed this timely appeal.

¶2 Counsel has filed a brief in compliance with Anders v. California, 386 U.S. 738 (1967), avowing he has reviewed the entire record and found “no arguable issue to raise on appeal.” He has also complied with State v. Clark, 196 Ariz. 530, ¶ 32, 2 P.3d 89, 97 (App. 1999), by including “a detailed factual and procedural history of the case with citations to the record, [so] this court can satisfy itself that counsel has in fact thoroughly reviewed the record.” Trammel has not filed a supplemental brief.

¶3 Pursuant to our obligation under Anders, we have reviewed the record in its entirety and find no error warranting reversal. Viewed in the light most favorable to upholding the verdicts, see State v. Tamplin, 195 Ariz. 246, ¶ 2, 986 P.2d 914, 914 (App. 1999), the evidence established that a Tucson police officer observed Trammel riding his bicycle on the sidewalk at night without a headlight. The officer stopped Trammel and conducted a records search that revealed outstanding warrants for Trammel’s arrest. In a search incident to the arrest, the officer discovered a plastic “baggie” containing a usable amount of methamphetamine in Trammel’s pocket. Trammel’s convictions and the order of probation are affirmed.
